Five Run For Two Offices, Voting In Cafeteria Today

Voting for the presidents of the Student Council and the Athletic Association will be held today in the cafeteria. The entire student body is eligible to vote and a total vote of at least one-half of the total number of students is necessary for a valid election.

James Bullington is the only nominee for the Athletic Association presidency. Candidates for the Student Council presidency are Howard France, Edward Pula, Lawrence Rodowsky and Anthony Spartana.

France, Editor of THE GREYHOUND, stated his platform generally as, "First and foremost, the Student Council must be enlarged; then and only then will it be a body which equitably represents the students. Secondly, those existing facilities must be improved and those that are lacking must be supplied."

Pula, student delegate to the NFCCS, expressed the opinion that, "Each student should consider it his obligation to vote in the student presidential election." He also emphasized the need of cooperation between the students, their representatives and the faculty. He stated his platform in four points: a campaign to clean up the cafeteria; planned student assemblies; improved social relations with N. D. M. and M. S. A.; and finally, the purchasing of tables and chairs, to be rented from the Student Council by the various clubs holding social affairs.

Rodowsky, president of the Classics Academy, stated, "I feel certain that the student body will base their vote on the record of past performances and future plans. In line with this, let me point only to my record of service to Loyola College and to the fact that my platform is the only one offering a concrete and possible program for the improvement of our school life."

Spartana, vice-president of the Junior Class, expressed the hope that everyone vote as his conscience dictates. He continued, "I would like very much to win, but if I should not, I promise the new president my fullest cooperation during the coming school year."

High School Debate Tourney Set Here

Loyola College will play host tomorrow to high school debaters participating in the first annual Forensic Debating Tournament of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society. The tourney will begin at 9:30 a. m. in the college library with a welcome address by the Rev. Joseph Drane, S. J., Dean of Loyola College.

The tournament will consist of five rounds of debating between the opposing schools. Topic of the contest will be the national high-school question: "Resolved; That the Extended Welfare Legislation is Detrimental to Our National System."

The scheduling of an extemporaneous speaking contest was also announced by Joseph Blair, general chairman of the tournament and president of the debating society. Each speaker will give a brief talk on a subject of current national importance. There will be one preliminary round followed by a final round for the previous winners.

The Very Rev. Thomas Murray, S. J., President of the College, will present trophies to the winning schools and medals to the best debaters and speakers. The tournament will close about 5:30 p. m.

Invitations have been sent not only to all Baltimore high-schools, but also to Gonzaga and Georgetown Prep of Washington and St. Joseph's Prep from Philadelphia. A large number of schools are expected to be represented in the tourney.

Judges will be supplied by the participating schools. A plan has been arranged so that no student will judge his own institution.

TRAGEDY — Badly injured GAVIN (Joseph Sills) is being carried into CANON SKERRITT'S (John Kelleher) office by SCHOOLMASTER O'FLINGSLEY (Malcolm Rose) in one of the rehearsals for SHADOW AND SUBSTANCE. The show will be presented tonight and Sunday night at Saint Ignatius Auditorium, Calvert and Monument Sts., at 8:00 p. m.

Annual Queen's Ball Set For Next Saturday In Gym

The Junior Sodality will sponsor its fifth annual Queen's Ball in the gymnasium on Saturday, May 19 from 9 until 1. Music will be by the Men of Note Orchestra, of fourteen pieces.

Deadline

The Selective Service College Qualification Test will be given at Loyola College on May 26, June 16 and June 30. This test will be used by the draft boards to determine whether or not a student will be allowed to continue his college education.

If a student is serious about his education and wishes to remain in college he will have to take this test in order to be eligible for deferment. Indications at Loyola show that less than one-third of the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen have made application. The deadline for application is May 15. Contact your draft board now.

In keeping with tradition, the dance will be semi-formal and there will be no corsages. One of the features will be the crowning of Our Lady's statue by the Queen's Court.

The new Student Council president, Athletic Association president, and the newly elected officers of the Junior Sodality will be introduced to the assembly during the intermission. Immediately after the dance, a Mass will be said in the student's chapel by the Rev. Joseph A. d'Inwilliers, S. J., for the assembled couples.

Tickets for the affair are on sale from the offices of the Sodality or at the booth in the cafeteria for $2.40 per couple.

Flower decorations are tentatively planned for the cabaret style dance. Refreshments will be served on the first floor.

Second Showing To Be Sunday Evening

The Mask and Rapier Society of Loyola College will present its version of the former Broadway hit, Shadow and Substance, tonight and Sunday night at the St. Ignatius Auditorium. The curtain will go up at 8:00 p. m.

The play, originally written by Paul Vincent Carroll, was adapted for use at the college by William Volcnick, president of the Dramatic Society. Since girls are not allowed to appear in school productions, the four female roles had to be rewritten for male use.

Cast in the lead roles are John Kelleher and Joseph Sills as Canon Skeritt and Gavin, respectively. The supporting cast includes: Neale Smith as Father Kirwan; Paul Steinhagen, Father Corr; Conrad Janish, Uncle Dennis; Malcolm Rose, Schoolmaster O'Flingsley; John Kohlway, Francis Ignatius O'Connor and Lawrence Rodowsky as Martin Mullahone. The Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S. J., society moderator is directing the show.

Tickets for the play can be purchased in the Campus Shop or at the door on both nights. Price for admittance is $1.00 per person, but student tickets can be obtained for $.75 per person; these tickets may also be purchased by the students for their dates.

Homecoming Begins Today

The first Homecoming in the ninety-nine year history of Loyola College will be held today and tomorrow. Activities get underway at 3 p. m. this afternoon when the Greyhound lacrosse team entertains the University of Maryland.

This evening the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society under the direction of the Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S. J., will present a play entitled Shadow and Substance. The four act play, written by Paul Vincent Carroll, will be given at St. Ignatius Auditorium, Calvert and Monument Streets, and will begin at 8:00. Through a special arrangement, alumni and their wives or dates will be admitted free to the show, by showing their membership cards at the ticket booth.

Tomorrow's features include a baseball double-header in the afternoon with Randolph-Macon and St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, and the first annual Homecoming dance in the evening to the music of the Sid Cowen orchestra.

The dance will be a cabaret style, informal dress affair and will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium. Tickets are $3.00 per couple, and can be obtained from the following committee members: Charles C. Meagher, '46, chairman of Homecoming Week, Richard C. Reese, '49, Gere O. Hamill, '44, or Vincent T. Bagli, '49.

Masters Degree In Education Offered In Graduate School

The degree of master of education will be offered for the first time by Loyola College Graduate Division with the opening of the Summer Session, June 25, it is revealed by the Rev. Arthur A. North, S. J., Dean.

New for Loyola, this degree is in addition to the bachelor of science in business administration; bachelor of science in social science, philosophy, or education; and master of arts in education which the Evening School and Graduate division have been offering for several years. It has been added, Father North explains, in order to extend the educational opportunities in the institution and to make possible the attainment of an advanced degree by teachers and others whose interests are centered upon professional education.

Registration is being accepted now. By taking advantage of Summer Sessions and planning fall and spring schedules, Father North says, students can obtain the new degree with an accelerated program.

Requirements for the M.Ed. are thirty earned credits in a prescribed program of studies. Unlike the M.A., it carries no requirement of a thesis and demonstration of the mastery of a foreign language as a tool of research. Applicants must possess a bachelor's degree from a recognized institution and must file a formal application supported by transcripts and other documents which may be required.

Glee Club To Present Concert; Alcazar Selected As Location

The Loyola College Glee Club, under the direction of Felice S. Iula will hold its Annual Concert and Dance at the Alcazar, Cathedral and Madison Streets, on Tuesday, May 29 at 8:30 p. m.

Listed among the program selections will be several American folk tunes, as well as solos by Joseph McCall, tenor, and Tony Battaglia, bass-baritone. The glee club will also present two Fred Waring arrangements, Battle Hymn of the Republic and You'll Never Walk Alone from the Broadway Musical Comedy, Carousel.

Theodore T. Niznick and Norman Sydnor will accompany the glee club on several of the numbers. They will also perform a four-hand piano duet.

The Loyola College Barber Shop Quartet will sing many of the old favorites. The quartet is comprised of Theodore Niznick and Lawrence Godey, tenors; and Francis Macek and Edward Pula, bases.

The glee club, on the novelty side, will sing a few sea-chanteys. The feminine role, a fair young maid, the idol of the sailors, will be portrayed by Malcolm Rose.

On the instrumental side will be a piano solo by Theodore Niznick. He will play Claire d' Lune by Debussy.

A special feature this year will be several selections by the Loyola

Felice Iula

College String Quintet, "The Four Flats and a Spare". Among the quintet are: Raymond O'Donnell, Malcolm Rose, William Ruzicka, Thomas Volatile and Anthony Battaglia.

The music for the dance to follow the glee club concert will be furnished by Bob Iula and his orchestra.

The price of admission is one dollar per person including tax. Tickets may be purchased from members of the glee club or from the Loyola College Bookstore.

Extra Curricular Organizations To Hold Elections This Month

Classics

The Classics Academy has set Tuesday, May 22, as the date of their elections. Lawrence Rodowsky is presently president of the organization. Dr. John V. Walsh and Dr. Edward Kaltenbach are the club's moderators.

Chess Club

Chess Club elections will take place on Tuesday, May 15. Thomas Junas is the 1950 president and Mr. Raymond Huck is moderator. A party for the members of the club will be held at some future date, announced Junas.

History

The History Academy will hold their annual elections of officers at their meeting on next Monday, May 14. The organization's annual banquet will be held on Thursday, May 17, at the Park Plaza Hotel. John Seal is the present Academy president.

Dramatics

The Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society will hold their elections for new officers on Friday, May 22. William Volenick is currently president of the organization. A dramatic party is scheduled for the near future, announced Volenick.

Alcarese, Cohen Win Annual IRC Election

The International Relations Club of Loyola held their annual elections at their regular weekly meeting last Tuesday. Andrea Alcarese, a junior pre-med student, succeeds G. Joseph Sills in the club presidency.

Melvin Cohen assumes the office of secretary. Both Alcarese and Cohen represented Loyola at the recent model United Nations meeting held at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pennsylvania. Dr. Harry Kirwin is the moderator of the club.

Public Relation Course Offered

A course in Public Relations will be given at Loyola College Evening School during the coming Summer Session, June 2 to July 26. Open to both men and women, the course will present a survey of the field as a whole and will stress the techniques, principles, and sociological factors which constitute the foundation for all public-relations activities.

"In previous years most time has been allotted to the subdivisions of personal relations, publicity and press relations, personnel relations, consumer relations, polling and surveying," said the Rev. Arthur North, S. J., Dean, "But modifications can be made to meet the interests and needs of the students."

From time to time public relations officers from local professional, commercial, and industrial organizations are invited to explain their procedures to the class, said the Dean.

Instructor for the course is Dr. Lawrence H. Baker, graduate of the Johns Hopkins University, and former member of the editorial staff of The Sun. Dr. Baker is currently with the public relations firm of General Research Service. Registration for the course is being accepted now.

The course will be given on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m., the usual evening school class hours. Registration for the course and the rest of the school will close at the end of May.

Eta Sigma Phi Frat Opens Chapter Here

A new fraternity, the Eta Sigma Phi, has been established on the campus for honor students in Latin and Greek, under the sponsorship of the Classics Academy. The Loyola Chapter will be affiliated with the national fraternity office at the University of St. Louis, St. Louis, Missouri.

All honor students in Latin and Greek, and all members of the Classics Academy are eligible for membership. The dues will be $1.50 per year, and they will include a subscription to Nuntius, the society's magazine.

Loyola was granted a charter at the yearly convention held this April in Louisville, Kentucky. All arrangements are being handled by Dr. P. Edward Kaltenbach, professor of Classics and moderator of the Academy.

Eta Sigma Phi joins the other two Jesuit Honor Fraternities already in existence on the Loyola Campus. Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honorary fraternity, and Tau Kappa Alpha, the national honorary forensic fraternity. The new Greek letter organization is scheduled to begin operation in the near future according to Dr. Kaltenbach.

Hungry Draft Boards Have Eye On Decadent Campus Plutocrats

by John McGrain

When the last June exam is flunked, the biggest open season since Colonel Cody shot the last buffalo will have started. For three months the colleges will be closed and the sons of the filthy rich (Russian for truck driver) will be basking in the sun or running about the country clubs in their Rolls Royces—doing very little for the national defense.

This is very annoying to some of the backwoods Congressmen. In spite of Gen. Hershey's paternal protection over America's budding brain trust, the sight of idle manpower is very tempting.

Kissed On Jowl

We could provide our yokel representative with an impressive number of casualties to make speeches over when he decorates the prize hog (with a blue ribbon and a kiss on each jowl) at the county fair. These Ozark patriots are almost on a level with the Red Army men who thought anyone possessing a bath tub was a capitalist war-monger.

We'd like to give these corn-fed Cicero's a conducted tour of an average college. Show them the filthy rich at play working out his education with a scrub bucket or lawn mower. Show him our pleasure-dome dining hall where lean students clutch doggedly at a pitiful bag of dry sandwiches.

30 Provided With Paper

We'd like to take him on a tour to see a classroom where one man in 30 is provided with paper, the ragged beggars in "Bubbling Brewery A. C." jackets from six years back, the smokeless smokehounds who revert to pipes; show him our parking lots full of rusty, disjointed $35 antiques. Show him some of the clerical faculty who haven't been paid in thirty years.

Can anyone, even a pork district legislator, behold such poverty without tears? If our solons ever saw our misery, they would in all likelihood forget the draft and loan us a few vitamins under the Marshall Plan.

But don't worry about the Congressmen; we have the solemn pledge of the Defense Department to protect us. We're all safe—safe as the Indians were with Uncle S.

Jenkins Debate Set For May 25

Should the Non-Communist Nations form a new International Organization? This is the topic that will be discussed in the annual Jenkin's Prize Debate. A gold medal will be awarded to the best speaker.

The speakers to participate were chosen by a vote of the entire Debating Society. Those elected were: Frank Stafford and Bruce Alderman, Affirmative and Jack Seal and Joseph Blair, Negative. William Hicken is General Chairman of the affair.

The date has been set for Friday Evening, May 25, and the Loyola College Library has been designated as the place. The speakers will be in formal attire and the debate will begin at 8:00 P. M. Mr. James Perrott, debate moderator, extends an invitation to all to attend.

Judges for the affair have not yet been chosen. Announcement of the judges will be made at the next meeting of the society by Mr. Perrott. The medal was founded by the late Austine Jenkins.

Alumni Association Elections To Be Held In Gymnasium at June 8 Monthly Meeting

New officers of the Alumni Association will be elected on Friday, June 8 in the Alumni Gymnasium. The election meeting will begin at 8 p. m. and all members of the association are invited to attend.

So far, the slate proposed by the nominating committee is the only one submitted. This consists of Dr. Edward A. Doehler, '30 for president, George A. Smith, '39 as first vice-president and John J. Kernan, '45 as second vice-president.

Nominated for terms as director were: Vincent Bagli, '48, Edward Clarke, '50, and George W. McManus, '43. Dr. Doehler is first vice-president of the association. Mr. Smith is chairman of the publicity committee and Mr. Kernan is chairman of the membership committee.

According to the constitution, opposition slates must be endorsed by at least five members of the association in good standing and, with the consent of the nominees, be submitted to the secretary of the association not later than fifteen days before the election. The present secretary is George W. McManus, Jr., who has law offices in the Fidelity Building.

Starving Indians Need Help

Millions are starving to death in India, while the United States, with a wheat surplus on its hands, sits idly back watching the famine take its toll. Nearly three months have passed since Prime Minister Nehru appealed to this country for help.

President Truman took up the call and asked Congress to enact legislation necessary for the United States to go to the aid of the desperate Asiatic country. Representative Gene Cox (D., Ga.) has been the main stumbling block to passage of the measure.

Taking advantage of the situation, the Georgia Dixiecrat kept the bill bottled up in the House Rules Committee for over two months seeking to use it as a weapon to "brow beat" Nehru around to the Western Hemisphere's way of thinking. Last week, backers of the legislation succeeded in getting it reported out of committee, yet when it reached the floor of the House, they had to "pigeon-hole" the measure lest it be killed outright.

It seems unbelievable that American legislators would play international politics with innocent human lives. Communist China, itself facing a severe famine, has offered to supply their neighbors with grain. Russia also has tendered an offer. This amounts to a great psychological victory for the forces of Communism.

It is not that the American people disapprove of the relief; civic and religious organizations across the nation have been petitioning for favorable action.

Never before in the history of this country have we failed to go to the aid of a poverty-stricken nation. If Congress won't do it, then let the American people. Let us start an Indian Friendship train on its way.

Atheism: The Foe

Historians, in the main, have rejected the term "Dark Ages", that period in which the glory of Greece and the grandeur of Rome was submerged under waves of barbarians. It was a period when Christianity succeeded in civilizing and Christianizing a territory even exceeding the great Roman Empire. The educational force of the monasteries and the monks was tremendous. Christianity was not content to allow the barbarians to continue their godlessness, their superstitions, their brutality. Christ was Love, but He was also a fighting man. All the culture developed by the Greeks, absorbed and further promoted by the conquering Romans, fell before the rude, simple barbarians and could not reassert itself. Only as it was purified and utilized by Christianity could that culture affect the uncivilized hordes.

Now we are faced with an onslaught which in number, power, and purpose, is more terrifying, more deadly than that of the barbaric hordes in Europe. Would that this attack were as obvious as were those of the barbarians! But it has been gaining momentum for over a century and there are but a few voices crying in the wilderness, warning of the juggernaut overshadowing civilization.

You who read this probably believe in God. You think He is a pretty important part of your life, so important as to merit daily consideration. If you were told that He is really insignificant, of minor importance, deserving very little time or consideration, you would be up in arms against such an idea. And if someone told you that the Supreme Court of our own United States has, by virtue of the McCollum Decision, determined that specific religious instruction must not be given in public schools, you might even wonder if we haven't denied the heritage bequeathed us by our Christian Founding Fathers. If you began to put two and two together, seeing on the one side: increased juvenile delinquency, increased crime rate, increased di-vorice rate, increased mental disorder; and on the other side: increased neglect of God as evidence by fewer Church-goers, and positive opposition by certain educational organizations to any specific religious instruction in our public schools, you would see the enemy quite plainly and probably be astounded at its gargantuan size.

Christ was a fighting man, and He minced no words in defining His enemies: "He who is not with Me is against Me." We must vitalize our education with the energy of Christianity. Each of us must fight atheism by being a militant Christian. Some of us can eliminate atheism more immediately by being militant Christian teachers in schools. The enemy — atheism — is here; the battle — for peace of mind, for healthy, wholesome youth, for strong family ties, for devotion to God and country — is now.

Campus Reform

Schoolwide elections will be held today to determine who will serve as President of the Student Council and President of the Athletic Association for the year 1952. Regardless of whom they may be, the new presidents face an unprecedented multiplicity of tasks.

Next year, Loyola will observe the one hundredth anniversary of its founding. Barring unforeseen international developments, the College undoubtedly will launch a full scale celebration, in which the students will play an integral part. The student leaders selected today must be prepared to act as the spearhead of campus participation in this centennial jubilee.

In this election, more than ever before in the history of the College, the decision of the student body will be a momentous one, since the candidates selected must have the ability to cope with and master the situation. There will be no room nor time for lackadaisical planning.

Foremost among the initial tasks facing the presidential victors is the problem of fomenting a "renaissance" of student spirit, which, sad to say, in the past few years has been lacking. To accomplish this there is a need for a wide investigation to discover and divide those who seek only personal aggrandizement and those who honestly wish to better their college.

Without a raised "spirit", the campus role in the celebration will be an utter failure, and without the right type of committee heads, zeal will remain at its present ebb. Loyolans have just reasons for being proud of their college, since it was the first higher educational institution established in the city of Baltimore.

Next year will be one of cherished memories for those students who are at Evergreen. The task facing the College will be tremendous, and will require the cooperation of all.

Loyalty Fund Drive Totals $16,182.38

Loyola's Loyalty Fund to complete the gymnasium and to build the cafeteria has reached the total of $16,182.38, according to the Rev. Robert P. Arthur, S.J., Chairman of the drive. Alumni and students have contributed $1,743.09.

The Class of 1949 leads the list in the number of contributors, while the Class of 1930 leads in the amount of money donated. Appealing for small contributions each month, Fr. Arthur said, "Just imagine the grand total we would have if the majority sent in a small contribution."

FROM THE LIBRARY

The world is staggering toward ruin for want of leadership, and leaders are scarce because thinking is a lost art. Since reading supplies the raw material for thought, we might lay the whole sorry mess to the fact that no one finds time to read—except a few who are determined to find it. The future, apparently, belongs to them. You may enlist among this elite today or any day, in the library.

Most reading is done from borrowed books. And most omitted reading is left undone simply because books are not borrowed. Any one might look into next week and feel unsure of having even ten minutes left in which to read when all the unimportant things were done. But the ten minutes will be there, multiplied by twenty or sixty, if he has good books at hand when idle half-hours occur. One way to insure against loss of time is to take a book home from the library every week, to be returned unread if necessary. It won't be necessary.

Any old thing, of course, is not reading, but a lifetime is nearly long enough for all the books that matter. Everyone has, gathering dust in the back of his mind, a list of those he once resolved to read and never did. Why not take it out and get it into manageable shape by discarding the duds and reading some that remain? In a year you will exhaust your list and acquire a longer and better one.

Novels like War and Peace, Kristin Lavransdatter, Don Quixote, and The Brothers Karamazov would be an appetizing start, or Augustine's, Newman's, and Henry Adams' autobiographies. Or your favorite topic, history from Thucydides to Toynbee, drama from Aeschylus to Eliot, or social theory from Plato to the papal encyclicals. Begin anywhere and wander at will — to master any of them; you need them all. Once the spade work is done, rereading will be a pleasure and you'll be an educated man. The world will need you, too; there aren't many left.

From the Readers

TO THE EDITOR:

DEAR SIR: In the spring of 1946, a letter appeared on the school bulletin board. In it was contained a challenge to Loyola from the U. S. Naval Academy for a chess match. This letter provided the impetus for the formation of the Loyola Chess Club. A meeting was called on March 15, and the first efforts toward organization of a club were begun.

From the humble beginning, the Chess Club has flourished and expanded. Expanded so rapidly, that new chess sets were purchased to accommodate the increasing number of members. But despite the fact that we have provided an ample number of sets, and despite the efforts of the officers to foster interest in chess, the club has been deterred in its purpose by a few men who misuse the facilities of the club. These few use the chess sets, not for chess, but for checkers. This results in the break-up of sets, the mix-up of pieces and their ultimate loss.

In this past week, I have noticed the absence of three sets from the cafeteria. This loss must be checked, either voluntarily by the students or by the removal of the sets from the cafeteria. I prefer the former.

THOMAS B. JUNAS,
Chess Club President.

Former Teachers To Be Ordained

Three former Loyola College professors, Mr. William J. Driscoll, S. J., Mr. Joseph A. Sellinger, S. J., and Mr. John C. Svec, S. J., will be ordained to the Sacred Priesthood in the Society of Jesus in June.

Mr. Driscoll and Mr. Svec will be ordained at Woodstock College, Woodstock, Maryland, on June 17 by His Excellency, Archbishop Keogh, and Mr. Sellinger will be ordained on August 15 at Louvain, Belgium, where he is finishing his study of Sacred Theology.

Mr. Driscoll is a native of Lawrence, Massachusetts, and was graduated at Georgetown in 1939, and received his Masters of Arts at Boston College in 1941.

He entered the Society of Jesus at Wernersville, Pennsylvania, in 1941, and took his vows there in 1943. Finishing his philosophical studies at Woodstock College in 1945, he came to Loyola College in the fall of that year, and taught English, Classical Literature, French, and Public Speaking.

During his three years at Evergreen, he was moderator of THE GREYHOUND, the Jenkins Debating Society, and the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society.

Mr. Sellinger entered the Novitiate at Wernersville directly after being graduated from St. Joseph's Preparatory School in Philadelphia in 1938. He studied at Wernersville, and took his philosophy at Springhill College, Mobile, Alabama in 1942.

Founds Queen's Ball

At Loyola College from 1945 to 1948, Mr. Sellinger taught Chemistry and German, and was the moderator of the Junior Sodality. Under his direction the annual "Queen's Ball" was inaugurated and became a tradition. He also served as Registrar of the Evening School.

Mr. Sellinger studied Theology at Weston, Mass. in 1948, returned to Woodstock for his second year in 1949, and is presently completing his education at the Facultés, S. J., Louvain, Belgium.

Mr. Driscoll will say his first solemn mass in Lawrence, Mass. on June 24, and Mr. Sellinger will have his first solemn mass in Louvain, at which his parents plan to be present.

Mr. Svec taught here from 1948-49; his first mass will take place at St. Anthony's Church, Baltimore.

Alumni Included

Three alumni of Loyola will also be ordained to the Jesuit Priesthood. They are Mr. C. Frederick Koehler, S. J., Mr. Robert J. McAllister, S. J., and Mr. Philip A. McGreevy, S. J. Mr. McAllister and Mr. McGreevy are of the Class of '40 and '41 respectively. Mr. Koehler attended the college for one year in 1938.

Fr. McAllister will celebrate his first solemn mass on Sunday, June 24, at 10 A. M. in St. Bernardine's Church, the week after his ordination at Weston College, Weston, Mass. He was formerly stationed at Loyola High School where he taught many of the present students of Evergreen.

Fr. McGreevy will have his first mass at St. Joseph's Monastery Church, Frederick Avenue, Baltimore on Sunday, June 24 at 10:00 A. M. with the Rev. Adrian Poletti, Pastor of St. Joseph's Monastery assisting. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dennis J. Comey, S. J., Director of St. Joseph's College Institute of Industrial Relations, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Flanagan Band Leads College Music Poll

by Edwin Watson

Billboard, the amusement industry's leading newspaper, recently completed its 12th annual college music poll in order to determine the favorite bands and singers of the year among U. S. college students. The results are highly interesting and in many cases quite surprising. The poll was divided into four main sections: orchestra popularity, singer popularity, small group popularity and record popularity.

Ralph Flanagan won a hands down victory in the first division. His band was voted the most popular all around dance orchestra, the best "sweet Band" and the most promising band of the year. The big surprise here, however, was Vaughan Monroe. The Monroe band had won two firsts in the previous year, but they did not even place in this one.

Top honors in the vocal department went to Billy Eckstine and Doris Day, while the Mills brothers and the George Shearing quintet were voted the best vocal group and the best instrumental group, respectively.

The leading casualty in the whole poll was Frank Sinatra, who slipped from a fourth place last year to completely out of sight.

Mario Lanza's recording of "Be My Love" swept into first place in both the popular and the classical record popularity section. This is the first time in the poll's history that the same artist has won in both these divisions.

The poll proved one thing conclusively; that a sweet danceable style of music is still tops around the campus.

Evergreen Quarterly Set To Publish Fourth Issue

The Evergreen Quarterly has gone to press with material for its fourth issue. The magazine should be published toward the end of the month. This issue will feature a Faculty Article by the Rev. Joseph A. d'Inviillers, S. J., about modern poetry. There will be short stories by Joseph Alexander, Frank Vogel and Thomas Murn. Eugene P. Corrigan, former editor of THE GREYHOUND, has written a political analysis of the United States foreign policy. There will also be a satire on Scholastic Philosophy by Joseph Serio, and a comic treatment of A. Conan Doyle by Carroll Conway.

There will also be the customary quantity of student poetry, book reviews and criticism.

Serio Captures Classics Medal

Joseph M. Serio, junior Latin major, has been announced as the winner of the Palma Nobilis, the annual medal awarded by the Classics department for the best Latin translation submitted in a competitive examination. Runners up were junior Leroy Wagner, and sophomore John McGrain.

The papers were judged by Dr. John V. Walsh, Professor of Classics, Dr. P. Edward Kaltenbach, Professor of Classics, and Dr. James W. Poultnery of Johns Hopkins. The examination consisted of passages in Latin from Ovid, Tacitus, and Horace, as well as an English passage to be rendered into Latin in the literary style of Cicero.

Follow up positions were accorded by the judges to James Garland, Harry Hock and Richard Otenasek. The name Palma Nobilis which means "the enobling palm branch" is taken from the first ode of the Roman poet Horace, where in he describes literary achievement as the most enobling form of success.

Jr. Sodality Elects Freshmen Officers

The Junior Sodality held a meeting to elect new officers for the coming year last Tuesday. Raymond O'Donnell, pre-medical student, was elected the new prefect. Frank Stafford, also a pre-med student, took second place as vice-prefect. Joseph Mead was chosen secretary, and Burch Harmon won the post of treasurer.

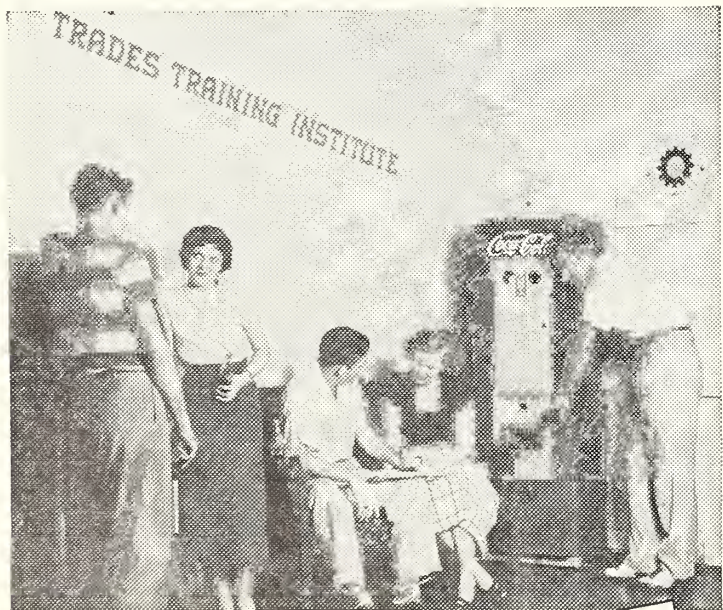

O'Donnell is a graduate of Mount Saint Joseph's High School, where he was editor of the yearbook in his senior year. The other officers-elect are graduates of Loyola High School where they were members of the Sodality. Stafford was Sodality prefect in his senior year. The new prefect will be given an all-expense-paid trip to the Summer School of Catholic Action at Fordham University this summer.

The new officers will be formally introduced to the student body at the Queen's Ball on Saturday, May 19.

Placement Office to Give Accounting Aptitude Test

On May 14, 15, 16 and 18 Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors in the accounting course will take a special test administered by the placement office to measure their mathematical and numerical abilities. The test is prepared by the American Institute of Accounting, College Aptitude Test Program. The results of the tests will be revealed to each student and they will be used as the basis of Educational and vocational guidance. They will prove useful to the Placement Office in finding positions for Accounting Majors. Results will also give the Business Department an objective comparison of its standing with other schools in the country.

These tests are connected to the Sophomore testing program examinations given to the sophomore class in March, and to the Scientific aptitude tests given to all sophomore science majors.

Loyola Downs Swarthmore By 13-10 Score

Avery Blake's visiting Swarthmore ten gave the Loyola stickmen a stiff battle before going down to defeat 13-10 in an overtime game last Saturday.

Bobby Strott's goal in the final period tied the game at 8-all after the Garnet, paced by Bunky Blake had come from behind to lead 8-7.

Hounds Gain Lead

The Hounds jumped off to a quick lead as Eddie Miller rammed home a goal soon after the opening gun. Swarthmore bounded back with two goals via the 'crosse of Blake. Marv Bobbitt tied the game at 2-2 at the half with a goal fed by Wimpy Wagner.

In a see-saw second half; the Garnet ten forged ahead on the excellent play of Frost, Jeanne and Blake while the Hounds, led by Wagner's twin tallies, kept apace.

Loyola Sets Pace

It was a different story in the extra session as the Bakermen took full control, scoring five goals while allowing the visitors only two.

Loyola now boasts a 4-2 log and thus avenged a 13-12 overtime loss to the Garnet last year at Swarthmore.

Spartana Is Completing Third Season Of Managerial Duties

by John Fitzpatrick

Of all the unsung heroes who ever dotted any sports scene, the managers certainly stand head and shoulders above the rest. At Evergreen especially, the managers of Loyola's various athletic teams have done an excellent job taking care of uniforms, keeping balls clean, catering to the whims of the players, and many other thankless duties. Therefore the "Greyhound" has decided to dedicate a series of articles to these men.

We have selected the "Dean" of managers, Tony Spartana, for our first story. Tony has just completed his third season as manager of the Varsity basketball team, and is now engaged in caring for the varsity tennis squad. For the past two seasons Tony has been head caretaker of the racquetball, and next year, his senior, will find him chief man on Lefty Reitz's gymnasium crew.

Sandlot Mainstay

Perhaps Tony's statement that, "I'm just a frustrated athlete," aptly sums up the feelings of this popular junior. Tony readily admits that sports is his main interest in life, a fact that is plainly intimated when one looks over his record of sandlot activity. He played sandlot baseball in 1945-46 for the Cahill Recreation Centre, and then turned his talents to the softball diamond for three more years, playing for the same outfit. In 1950 he cavorted in the outfield for Walbrook Methodist Church.

On the basketball court, Tony

Spring Program Started For Intramurals

The spring intramural season opened last week when the "Chiamerons" downed the "Little Aristotles" and the "All Stars" swamped the "Squasher's" in the softball tournament. The tennis tournament concluded its first round last Friday. A horseshoe contest which was planned to begin this spring has been omitted from the intramural program.

Intramural head, Pete Bamberger, states that the league will consist of six teams, which will play only one round. If there is time left after the first round, a second will be started and a play off game between the first and second round champs will decide the title.

Winners To Be Feted

At the end of the season, trophies will be given to the highest point scorer and the runner up in the Intramural activities. The winners will receive invitations to the A. A. Banquet and will be presented their trophies at this time.

Points may be scored in softball by batting ability, runs scored and team standing. In tennis, the rounds advanced will be the point getting factor. Skippy Barry was the trophy winner last year.

Track Team Extends Win Streak

Loyola's track team, paced by Pat Bowes and Bob Hockwarth who tallied eleven points apiece during the afternoon, edged Scranton University by the score of 61 to 56 at Evergreen, on Saturday, April 28.

The Hounds sewed up the dual meet when ever-improving Frank Cossentino and Harry Lentz finished one-two in the pole vault, and then took second and third places with Hockwarth and Johnny Benzing in the low hurdles.

Bowes Stars

Several individual performances highlighted the meet. Pat Bowes, who is unable to practice regularly due to work, sprinted and elbowed his way through the overcrowded lanes to a well earned 10.3 victory in the 100 yard dash. George Feild finished a close second.

In the 220 Bowes again posted the best time of the three heats that were run and thereby added another five points to the Hound's cause. Faeild took third place. Bowes also scored by finishing third in the broad jump.

Freshman Johnny Benzing paced the Greyhound track and field men as they celebrated Ascension Thursday by thoroughly outclassing Towson State Teachers 92 to 25 at Towson. Benzing's one man show netted 19 points as he finished first in the 100 yard dash, 120 low hurdles, 220 high hurdles and a first place tie with teammate Harry Lentz in the high jump.

Lack of depth in the field events was the partial cause of the downfall of the Knights as the Hounds swept 41 out of a possible 45 points in the field while setting three new records for the Towson lot.

Bowes Gets Nine Points

Pat Bowes chipped in with 9 markers with a first in the broad jump, a second in the 100, and a third in the 220. Bobby Hockwarth continued his domination of the 440, winning in 54.2 and then finishing second in the high and low hurdles.

In the field events the Green and Grey finished one-two-three in the broad jump, shot put and discus. Frank Cossentino posted a new record in the pole vault, triumphing with a 10' 3" effort.

Tennis Team Drops Four Takes Towson State 7-2

by Tony Spartana

Loyola's tennis fortunes were struck another mortal blow these past two weeks as they dropped four out of their last five matches including one win and one loss in conference play. The lone league win was a 7-2 victory over a hapless Towson squad which has yet to taste victory in Mason-Dixon competition.

The Hounds' conference defeat was at the hands of the defending champion Catholic University squad which is undefeated in the M-D league and the three non-conference losses were to St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, the University of Maryland, and Georgetown.

McCormick Pleasant Surprise

Minus the services of the ailing Talbott Cockey, erstwhile number four man, the team still managed to come through in grand style against the Teachers, losing but two matches. Bob Bradley again failed in his second attempt to beat Jack Downs losing 6-1, 6-4 and Jack Schanberger, having been moved up to the five spot, dropped a three set battle to Lane of the losers, 5-7, 6-2, 6-0.

However, the most pleasant development of the afternoon was newcomer Tom McCormick's 6-4, 6-3 besting of Towson's Mahn, conqueror of Schanberger in the previous meeting. Also in the match, John Darrell dumped Schleunes 6-0, 6-0, Joe Lacy took Wittstadt 7-5, 6-2, and Tom McDermott, playing in the number four position, had to come from way behind in besting Luzman 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

Darrell's Match Close

But on the following day the situation was just the reverse as the Greyhounds took a 7-2 shellacking from a strong St. Joe of Philly aggregation on the winner's courts. Only Lacy and McDermott were able to register victories for the losers, the former taking Bateman

7-5, 6-2 and the latter winning over Rudolph 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Darrell again lost one of his typically tough matches to Hendry, a freshman of the Hawks. This time it was 6-3, 6-4, one break of service representing the difference in each set. The number one doubles saw Bradley and Darrell losing to Hendry and Jordan 6-4, 11-9 in a match which contained some sharp volleying by each duo.

Maryland Toughest

Maryland proved to be the toughest foe the Loyolans have met to date as they romped to an 8-1 victory. Once again McCormick turned in a stellar performance in the last spot by taking the measure of Magan of the Terps 6-3, 6-3 for the lone Hound win of the day.

Also in this match Lacy suffered his first defeat of the season after six straight wins, losing to Huyett 6-1, 6-1, who played some of the best tennis seen on the Evergreen courts in many a moon.

Lacy Wins Easily

Georgetown also ran through Loyola 7-2 winning five of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles encounters. Darrell took one of the worst beatings of his college career losing to the Hoyas' McCarthy 6-0, 6-1 while Lacy was scoring his most impressive triumph to date taking Collins at the number three position, 6-1, 6-0.

In the Catholic U. match the Cardinals took five out of the six singles matches and the number two and three doubles in gaining their 7-2 win. Darrell salvaged the only singles win for the Greyhounds as he was able to outwit the tricky Dick Pincus 6-4, 6-4.

Loyola grabbed its other point in the number one doubles as Darrell teamed up with Bradley to defeat Pincus and Jim Keating 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

GOAL! Loyola's Frank Kimmel dents the net for the Hounds in the Washington College game. The Shoremen won the game by a 17 to 9 margin.

Green & Grey Nine Hold Second Spot In M-D Race

Loyola's baseball team suffered its first defeat at the hands of a Mason-Dixon opponent two weeks ago, when it lost to Towson Teachers, 6-4, but otherwise played good ball in setting its season's record at eight victories in fourteen games.

Loyola defeated a potent outfit from Catholic University, 11-7, at Evergreen, as Dan Donohue once again went the distance to chalk up his third straight victory. A big six-run fifth inning provided the winning margin for the Hounds, as they choked off a Cardinal rally in the eighth stanza.

Simmons Hits Winning Homer

The Teachers of Towson State College bounced the Hounds from first place in the Mason-Dixon Conference, when Jim Simmons knocked out a two-run homer in the last of the ninth to give the Towsonites a 6-4 win. Tom Cripps and Dan Donohue hooked up in a good mound duel which found the Teachers grabbing a 3-1 edge in the first inning, only to have the Evergreeners tie it up in the third frame.

The Hounds took a short-lived lead in the fifth on successive doubles by Donohue and Mel Wright, but the Towson crew tied it once again in the sixth. Both hurlers breezed along until the ninth when Simmons smashed his circuit clout with Amon Burgee aboard to upset the appiecart.

Avenge Defeat

St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia handed Loyola its second straight loss, as they edged the Hounds, 9-7. A two-run homer by Bo Kirby in the fourth inning gave the visitors from Baltimore an early lead, but the home team erased it with five runs in the fifth. Then the Philadelphians tallied four runs in the seventh to ice the victory. A four run rally by the Greyhounds in the final stanza fell short as Jim McHugh bested Jack Sybert and Jack Potthast on the mound.

Loyola avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of Western Maryland, when the Evergreen school defeated the Green Terrors, 8-2 behind the brilliant four-hit pitching of Bob Matthews. The Westminster team held a 2-0 lead until the Greyhounds exploded for six markers in the eighth inning, and two in the ninth. Matthews was simply too much pitcher, as he struck out five, and walked only one. Jim Bullington was the siege gun of the Loyola attack, as he drove in three count-ers in the big eighth frame. George Franz also contributed a double to the winning cause.

Seven Pitchers Used

In a wild, free-scoring contest, Georgetown defeated Loyola, 15-13 at Washington. The Hoyas came from behind, and hopped on Jack Potthast with a five-run seventh inning splurge to cop the victory. Seven pitchers were used in the battle, and they were rapped for a total of thirty-five hits. Jim Bullington, Mel Wright, George Franz, Bo Kirby, and Ned Kelly raised their batting averages, as they collected fifteen of Loyola's eighteen hits. Kelly contributed a double and triple to the losers' cause, while Kirby lashed out a double.

Loyola chalked up its sixth conference win in eight games by defeating Johns Hopkins 8-5. Dan Donohue gained his fourth victory by personally breaking up his pitching duel with Bob Wroblewski. Donohue lashed out a single in the ninth inning to send Bo Kirby and Red Schneider home with the winning runs. Loyola tallied a single run in the sixth frame and four in the first while the Blue Jays scored a single marker in the first, and four in the sixth. Hopkins outhit Loyola eleven to nine.

Stickmen Bow To Shoremen, Beat W & L

by Jack Seal

On Saturday, April 20th, the Loyola Lacrossmen won their third consecutive victory over Washington College by a 17-9 margin. The Hounds, led by Kimmel and Tom Wagner, who suffered injuries, was led by Miller and Charley.

The game started off as a rout for the home team as Miller rammed home three quick goals before the Generals could counter with a marker by Lear. Miller scored again for the Hounds as Jim Gray added a tally for the Blue cause.

Nasco Stars

Goals by Frank Nasco and Wagner added to the Green total in the second period while the Generals were held scoreless. It was a different story in the second half as the combination of Doug Rose to Ross Wagner clicked for three straight Blue markers, and Gid Stieff slipped the tying tally past Loyola goalie Wil Holdefer, forcing the game into overtime.

The Hounds again took control of the game in the extra period, scoring three goals off the sticks of Wagner, Nasco, and Bobby Strott, while an inspired defense was smothering the visitors.

Shoremen Win

The Shoremen from Washington College trounced the Loyola stickmen last Wednesday at Evergreen by a 17-9 score. The visitors were led by Ray Wood (the state's leading scorer) who garnered five goals and Graeme Menzies and Eddie Leonard who both got four tallies.

The Hounds jumped off to an early 2-0 lead on quick markers by Wimpy Wagner and Frank Kimmel. This was the last time that the Bakermen were to lead, for the visitors then took over, and poured eight straight goals into the Green net before the quarter ended.

Hounds Rally

Loyola came back with three tallies in the second period off the stick of Frank Nasco and Tommy Oaster, while their defensive teammates were holding the Shoremen to only two. The score at the intermission was 10-6, and that was the closest the Hounds could get.

Loyola Teams Plagued by Injuries, Illness

by Joe Steffens, Sports Editor

The picture at Loyola became a little clouded last week when it was learned that Tom Wagner suffered a torn cartilage in his knee and would be unable to play for the remainder of the season. Tom received his injury during the Penn State game several weeks ago. It did not seem serious at the time and it was hoped that after giving the injured limb sufficient rest, the sophomore ace would be able to return to the lineup. However, when Tom attempted to play in the Washington and Lee game a week later it was apparent that his knee was in bad shape and that an operation would be necessary to cure the injured leg.

Tom held down the center position and his absence will be felt. Wagner had received honorable mention on the 1950 All-American lacrosse squad and up to his recent mishap seemed to be destined for similar honors this year.

Talbott Cockey

The tennis team also received its share of misfortune when Talbott Cockey was stricken with appendicitis several weeks ago. Although he is now at home recuperating, Talbott will not see action for the remainder of the year. Cockey, who was playing his second year of varsity tennis, alternated between the number three and four spots with Joe Lacy. Up to his sudden illness he was undefeated in regular season matches and had proved himself to be one of the mainstays of the squad.

Baseball

Although it is still too early to determine the outcome of the league race, it seems that the Hound baseball team will be in contention for the northern division championship. The Loyola nine is currently playing second fiddle to Towson's league-leading aggregation.

One of the prime factors for the team's good showing has been the playing of veteran pitcher Dan Donohue. In the recent Towson game Dan proved that the old axiom "Pitchers can't hit" is not necessarily true as he managed to tag Towson's Tom Kripps for a pair of doubles.

Ill fortune didn't forget the baseball team while it was making its rounds as Bo Kirby came up with a broken knuckle in the Hopkins' game while fielding a ground ball. Kirby will not be seen in action for at least another week, too late for the remaining games this season.

Hound Golfers Beat A. U. Set For M. D. Tournament

With the regular season schedule drawing to a close, we find that the Loyola golfers are near the top of the list, sporting a record of four wins against a single defeat. The Hounds lost to Western Maryland for their only loop loss, while they were victorious over Baltimore U. twice, American University and Western Maryland. The team, captained by Jim Pelisek, met Hopkins last Wednesday and a victory for Loyola would assure at least a tie for the M-D title.

Baltimore University was the easiest mark for the Greyhounds as they had little trouble in overcoming the Bees in two matches. Tony Pistorio, Freshman clubber, found this to be his greatest victory as he beat his B.U. opponent by a large margin.

Gross Leads Team

Bill Gross has the best record for the Hounds as he boasts six wins against one loss. Pistorio is close behind followed by Pelisek, McCoy, Cooney and Bardelman. All the members of the team have shown much improvement since the start of the season and will be a constant threat in the Mason Dixon Tournament which follows the regular season matches.

Most trouble in the tournament is expected from Johns Hopkins who has been undefeated to date. The Green and Grey have a good chance to defeat the Jays if they continue to roll at their present pace. They showed great form against American University last Monday as all but two men brought home victories.

Georgetown Is Toughest

Although the Greyhounds have lost only one league match they suffered defeat at the hands of Maryland and Georgetown who both have sharp shooting squads. Georgetown has been the toughest opponent this season and has aided in giving Loyola the much needed experience that will be needed for the M-D Tournament.
